A PROTECTION TARIFF. Is one of the blessings bestowed upon the country by the Radical rulers. What that is is answered in the speech of John Quincy Adams, delivered at Fanieul Hall, Boston, on the 25th of october last from which we extract the following: And next we come to the tariff, the second great legacy of Republican rule. Well, what is that? You are taxed more than four hundred millions a year, about one half of which is raised by custom duties levied under a tariff of the kind called "probulk of it goes into the pockets of the "interview" this primative household more than a rubbish heap on a spot the primitive ancestor, to the volume tective." WHAT IS IN THE BEDROOM .- If two persons are to occupy a bedroom during the night, let them step on a weighing scales as they retire, and then again in the morning, and they will find that their actual weight is at less! a pound less in the morning. Frequently a loss of two or more pounds and the average loss throughout the year will be a pound of matter, which has gone off from their bodies, partly from their lungs, and partly from the pores of the skin. This escaped matter is carbonic acid and decayed animal matter or poisonous exhalation.-This is diffused in the air in part and absorbed by the bedclothes. If a single ounce of wool or cotton be burned in a room, it will so completely saturate the air with smoke that one can hardly breathe, though there can only be one ounce of foreign matter in the air. If an ounce of cotton be burned every half hour during the night, the air will be kept continually saturated with smoke, unless there be an open window or door for its escape. Now the sixteen ounces thus formed is far less poisonous than the sixteen exhalations from the lungs and bodies of those who have lost a pound in weight during the eight hours of sleeping; for while the dry smoke is taken into the lungs, the damp odors from the body are absorbed into the pores of the whole body .- Need more be said to show the importance of having bedrooms well ventilated, and flag off the face of the ocean, and you The owner of the property, more these are comparatively rare-of the of thoroughly airing the bedelothes are gradually protecting your farmers tender hearted than some Irish land- ox, of the urns, the elk, the ibex and in the morning, before packing them

A gentleman was traveling in Tennessee, and was obliged to step at a eacy formed a farm house for the night, owing to of bread. At lenth the urchin cried out: "Granny, thar's a har on the bread." The lady remarked that it was only a piece of a corn silk. "Corn silk!" exclaimed he; "how came corn silk to have a nit on it? That's what I want to know."
